THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Georgia.

The farmers of Warren have changed the programme in planting the present year, and have turned the scale in favor of the grain crop. They seem perfectly satisfied that the low price of cotton, and high price of provisions, if not checked, will be their ruin. Cor. Chronicle.

A writer, in the Augusta Chronicle, charges that the Georgia Railroad has some inefficient and incapable Directors.

Mr. H. F. Day, formerly of Augusta, dead.

The Athens Watchman reports splendid prospects for fruit.

The Barnesville Gazette reports a visit to that place by colored Bishop Vanderhorst. He preached at the white church, by invitation, and had many white hearers. How will this sound as a Ku-Klux outrage?

In the first contest between the New York and Savannah Base Ball Clubs in Savannah, the Savannah boys were distanced and outclined; but in the second game they scored 13 innings to New York's 23, whereupon a Savannah paper says this last beating puts the Savannah Club first in the South.

The election in Floyd county for Representative comes off the 31st of May.

The Advertiser says C. R. Holcome, under bonds at Savannah for false census returns, is charged with swindling the Freedmen's Bureau. One Johnson, who tried to pass a forged check, has a negro wife in Columbus.

The Milledgeville Union records that Lewis Beall, colored, jealously shot his wife.

ALBANY, GEORGIA.

OUR ACCOMPLISHED CORRESPONDENT IN THE BLOOMING COTTON REGION—A WILDERNESS OF FLORAL BEAUTY—THE PEOPLE—THE FAME OF THE KIMBALL HOUSE—LECTURES—GENERAL LEWIS—EDUCATION OF THE BLACKS—THE BRUNSWICK AND ALBANY RAILROAD—WHO IS E. Y. CLARKE?

An Interesting Letter.

ALBANY, April 10, 1871.

Editor Constitution: Your correspondent finds himself to-day amid the warm sunshine, the blooming flowers, the fragrant breezes and the brilliant vegetation which lend their loveliest attractions to this center of the rich cotton region of Georgia. Old Winter has resigned his gloomy throne to the beauteous and bounteous queen of spring. The ladies and gentlemen have dropped their grave and heavy garments and have put on a dress of brighter colors and lighter texture.

A North Georgian is struck with the advance of the season in Albany. It is now and the riches and ornaments of nature are a compensation for the oppressive heat and prevailing languor of this locality in the summer. This compensative law of Providence is one of the most beautiful and beneficial arrangements which mark the history of the Divine government.

The citizens of this community ordinarily ruticate from three to six months in the year, by reason of the peculiar character of their vocation, as well as on account of the enervating influences of the climate from the month of May till late in the autumn. The exodus will commence in a short time, and is looked to as the promised land by many of the people of the low country. Its proximity to the mountains and its amazing altitude make it a fountain of life and health to the human family. And then the fame of the Kimball House has spread all over this region, and this circumstance will tend to increase the number of visitors to your city during the approaching summer. There is no estimating the value of this grand establishment to Atlanta and the public generally. I am satisfied, from what I have heard, that its well ventilated rooms and splendid halls will be alive all the hot season with gay and brilliant throngs from the pine-groves and the sea.

TWO LECTURES

have been delivered here to-day on two very interesting topics. Dr. Harrison lectured before the Good Templars in the Baptist church, and the place was filled to repletion on the occasion. The lecturer is a man of mark, and his reputation was well sustained by the effort of this evening.

Gen. Lewis, Superintendant of State Education, delivered a speech in the Court House on popular education, to a small but very intelligent collection of citizens. The remarks of the speaker were, in the main, well received, and it was the impression of those present that he is sincerely desirous to promote the educational interests of Georgia.

It is a very serious question whether the system of public education inaugurated by the last Legislature is the wisest and best that could have been adopted, and whether the next General Assembly will sustain it.

Query: Will a knowledge of history, mathematics, science and literature make better cultivators of cotton, tobacco, rice, etc? Can they actually master the higher branches of learning? and is it right in the present impoverished condition of our people to tax them for the support of colored schools? Education is a blessing or a curse, just according to circumstances.

On this point we are perfectly clear, that if a system of public education is put into operation, the work of conducting it ought to be committed to the most intelligent and conservative citizens of each county, and not left in the hands of adventurers and agitators.

RAILROADS.

The Brunswick, Albany and Eufaula Railroad is rapidly approaching its completion, and when done, will doubtless prove one of the most important lines of trade and travel in Georgia. Its energetic President is a tower of strength to any great public enterprise.

Col. Styles, of the Albany News, gave us a cordial greeting. He is the type of a high-toned gentleman, and there is always plenty of powder and lead in his leaders.

"WHO IS COL. E. Y. CLARKE,

who has succeeded Mr. Anderson in the joint ownership of THE CONSTITUTION?" is the inquiry of many in this section, and my reply has been substantially this: "He is a young lawyer of energy, talent and of fine moral and religious character, and with his vigorous and accomplished associates, Col. Avery and W. A. Hemphill, Esq., there is no reason why THE CONSTITUTION should not achieve a brilliant and lasting reputation in the annals of Southern journalism. W.

How to Dry Fruit.

The general promise of a large fruit crop this year, and the probability that the industry of the families of our country readers will be turned to most profitable account in drying fruits for market, a branch of commerce which supports many families with comforts and necessities, at a comparative small outlay of labor, (being the product chiefly of women and children) make the following directions for preparing fruits, as furnished by Mr. H. A. Dayton, a large and experienced fruit-shipper of Richmond, Va., particularly worthy of note by our rural population:

Apples.—Pick before fully ripe, pare all over, slice from each side to the core—the thinner the slices the quicker they will dry, and the higher price they will bring. All pared and sliced fruits should be dried in the shade and out of the wind, to preserve a light color, on which very much depends the price.

Peaches should be picked before too ripe, sliced towards the centre, so thin that when dry the slices will not be thicker than the blade of a table knife. Be very particular and dry them a light color. Dark peaches are always dull sale at half price or less than bright ones. Peaches, if not peeled, should be cut in halves.

Cherries.—Take out every seed and dry without any admixture of sugar or syrup, and dry thoroughly. The damper they are the less price they sell for. Cherries not seeded are of little value, and dull sale.

Blackberries, Whortleberries, and Raspberries should not, in picking and drying, lose any of their juice; the pulp is of no value.

Damsons and other plums should be dried without seed.

Pears and Quinces should be sliced the same as peaches, and be free from cores and seeds.

Remember, that neither peach nor cherry seeds, apple cores or peelings, sugar, syrup or water, will sell for dried fruit. By carelessly or intentionally leaving or putting them in, you will in the price have to pay for sorting, where it can be done, and not lose the amount paid for freight on the portion of no value.

Keep the fruit clean, and do not forget the fact that the better it is prepared the quicker it will sell, and the higher price it will bring. Lastly, pack in nice, clean barrels, boxes, or bags.

THE RADICAL PROGRAMME.

AN INTELLIGENT NORTHERN DEMOCRATIC EXPOSURE OF ITS MENDACITY AND INJUSTICE.

In the speech of Senator Morton, in the Senate, the other day, we have the programme of the Radical party for the Presidential election in 1872. The Republican party will endeavor to set aside the great questions of finance which ought to occupy the attention of the voters of the country, and the question of the centralization of power in the General Government, and make the condition of society in the Southern States the prominent issue.

There is not a Republican or Democrat in the United States to-day, who knows anything about Morton, who does not believe him to be an utterly unscrupulous demagogue, but his moral character has nothing to do with his sagacity as a politician. He is fitted by nature and experience to be an admirable judge of the passions and prejudices of men. He knows how far these qualities will sway the voters of the country, and he deliberately announces that "the Southern question will be the great issue in 1872."

What is the Southern question, as stated by him? We will quote from his speech. "Shall reconstruction be maintained? Shall the constitutional amendments be upheld? Shall colored people be protected in the enjoyment of equal rights? Shall the Republicans in the Southern States be protected in life, liberty, and property?" The Senator groups these inquiries under one general head, and calls them "the Southern question."

He assumes that, should the Democratic party triumph in 1872, it will repudiate the national debt, or will provide for the payment of the slaves emancipated; it will take such action as will disfranchise the negroes; it will precipitate a reign of terror in the Southern States which will make it impossible for Republicans to live there; and it will overthrow the State governments established under the reconstruction acts of Congress, and subject the people to the rule of traitors and rebels.

These are his assumptions. What difference does it make, looking merely to the result of the popular verdict, whether they be false or true? If the majority of voters in the country believe the assumptions to be true, the Democratic party will be beaten. Morton has stated, as the results of a Democratic victory, the adoption of measures which the greater number of voters in the country have emphatically condemned.

The plan of campaign laid down by this heedless demagogue, but adroit and far-seeing politician, must be met by the Democracy with such honest, frank, and unequivocal declarations as will compel the conviction in the minds of voters in the republican ranks that his statements are wholly false.

The Democracy regard "reconstruction" as a policy made operative through agencies of fraud and wrong as wicked as can well be conceived, but as one which the country has accepted and indorsed. It forms no part of any purpose of the Democratic party to overthrow the State Governments formed under that policy. The Democracy do not propose to deprive the negroes of the privilege of voting. Democrats do propose, by fair and honorable means, to gain the negro vote. Democrats know—the Confederate leaders, who are most deeply interested in the prosperity of the South, know—that the best interests of the Southern States require a tolerance of political opinion which will not, in any manner, affect the safety of individuals, or socialor business relations. The Democratic party is as much interested in maintaining the national credit as the Republican party, and the late slaveholders in the South do not ask and do not expect that the Government will ever pay them for the slaves emancipated.

Every one of the assumptions of Morton to which we have referred is false. They are all false, without qualification or reserve. He knew them to be false. He cannot find in the speech of any Democratic member of Congress, or in the resolutions of any Democratic Convention, small or great, or in anything which he can offer in support of the bold and unmitigated falsehoods which were the groundwork of his speech.

It was in reply to the speech of Senator Blair, and the latter had, in clear and express terms, denied that he entertained any such purpose as was imputed by Morton to the Democratic party. Blair had made such a revelation of the profligacy and misrule of the carpet-baggers and negroes in the South that it made the Jacobins in the Senate to shiver with fear, and because he opposed Congressional usurpation and reëstablishment of despotism over the Southern people, he was accused with sympathy with the Ku-Klux.

Is it not disgraceful that a United States Senator can be found who will arise in his place in the Senate and charge that more than one-half of the white men in this country sympathize with and encourage an organization banded together for lawless and criminal purposes?

Republican politicians may as well understand now as at a later date, that they will not be permitted to make "the southern question" the prominent issue in the next presidential campaign. The Democratic party will take excellent care that the Ku-Klux shall cease to be before the commencement of that campaign. We have two years more of Grant ahead of us, and they promise an abundance of issues, any one of which will make "the southern question" appear insignificant. He has acquired a taste for meddling with matters of which he knows nothing, and his egotism, stupidity, venality and capacity for blundering grow on him daily, and his best friends fear that the last half of his administration will largely add to the shameful and disreputable character of the record he has already made.—Chicago Times.

A GOOD POINT.—Mr. Van Trump, of Ohio, made a speech in the House of Representatives on Monday, in which he made the point that the power to suspend the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is a legislative power, and cannot be exercised by deputy, and therefore that Congress cannot confer upon the President the power to suspend it. That body, he argued, could just as well confer upon the President the power to levy taxes, for the writ in question could only be suspended when in the judgment of Congress, not of the President, there was such a "rebellion," not "insurrection," as would justify its suspension. And a "rebellion" could never exist except where there was an organized resistance to the laws and an intention to overturn the Government.

This argument alone, says the Richmond Dispatch, would suffice to secure the defeat of the Shellabarger bill if the Radical members of Congress understood and respected the Constitution which they have sworn to support.

☞ A man attempted recently to steal a ride in a freight on the Union Pacific railroad. His presence, of course, not being known, the car was locked and he was kept a prisoner for five days without food or drink, until the car arived at Omaha. When found, his feet and legs were frozen solid.

☞ The term "carpet-bagger," having been worn nearly threadbare by long use, is going out of fashion, and the children of the Pilgrim Fathers who have become citizens of Florida, are now called "alien dominators."

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Cable dispatches report tremendous firing in the direction of the forts, but as yet no decisive or important actions have occurred.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 13.—Dombrowski is very popular with his troops. He declares that he will burn Neuilly, Villiers and Patneaux if necessary in defense.

There is a great concentration of troops reported before Versailles.

McMahon has gone to Ville Letang and a decisive battle upon the insurgent positions is expected.

Talkers now opposes conciliation, and thinks success certain.

A dispatch from Paris says the Nationals are massed near the Arch Triumph.

Dombrowski has selected Asneeres as the center of operations against Courbevie.

Long Champs and Asneeres are both fortified.

Paris is calm, but the exodus of the inhabitants continues.

THE CROP.—Our reports all state that good progress is being made with the new crop. We notice that over the most of the South, there are complaints that planting has been retarded by the storms, and that the crop is late. Our correspondents at Nashville, however, state that in that vicinity they are three weeks earlier than last season, and our telegram from Galveston says that a good stand of cotton has been secured in Texas.

As to the extent of the planting, our advices at present do not indicate any decided falling off. There has been an increased acreage put under food products, and much less amount of fertilizers have been used.—Circular Williams, Birnes & Co.

☞ In Switzerland a law is proposed making it unlawful for any one under fourteen years of age to smoke tobacco.

IT CAN BE USED WITH GREAT PROFIT WITH COTTON AT A LOW PRICE.

THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR Cotton & Vegetables!

THIS most excellent Fertilizer is manufactured on the right principle, by the

of Richmond, Virginia, and is perfectly reliable. Many used it last spring with great satisfaction on cotton and vegetables.

Mr. J. W. Akers states that he made fine turnips with it on land that would scarcely produce anything without manure. Among those who used it on cotton, I beg to refer to General John B Gordon, A. R. Lawthan, Esq., Mr. J. H. Kimbrell, Col. E. B. Whitman, B. Brown, J. P. Austin and S. D. Brown.

THE CAROLINA FERTILIZER!

IS MADE FROM THE

PHOSPHATES OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

AND is pronounced by various Chemists, one of the best MANURES known. It was extensively used most of the Cotton-growing States last season, and in a great number of trials, in comparison with other leading Fertilizers, proved superior to every other.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA PHOSPHATES

Are remains of extinct land and sea animals, and possess qualities of the greatest value to the Agriculturist. Pamphlets containing description of this

REMARKABLE DEPOSIT,

With engravings of Fossils found in it, and testimonials proving the superiority of the Fertilizer, will be forwarded on application.

Extract from Erisie in Rural Carolinian, February number, 1871, giving details of experiments with fifteen different Fertilizers:

"From the above experiments and their results, I almost reach some conclusions which may prove of interest to others.

"First—That Peruvian Guano, which has been considered the standard for comparison for all commercial Fertilizers, fails to produce as much cotton as a Fertilizer claiming to contain no ammonia at all.

"Second—That neither the Peruvian nor the unmixed Super-Phosphates produces so well as a combination of the two, or as a commercial Fertilizer containing both super-phosphate and ammonia, like the Carolina Fertilizer, which has produced better results for me than any other commercial Fertilizer.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY

THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION.

DEFIES REFUTATION

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1871.

☞ The Memphis and Little Rock Rail road is completed.

☞ The House of Representatives has declared the election of the Tennessee Congressmen valid.

☞ The Governor of Mississippi recommends the Legislature to memorialize Congress to refund the cotton tax of 1865 and 1866.

Connecticut.

The vote for Congressmen in Connecticut is interesting and instructive.

The Radical loss is just 1824. This is pretty good.

Poor Mississippi.

The Mississippi House of Representatives, on the 11th, passed a bill granting equal rights to negroes in traveling upon railroads steamboats, stages, and all the public conveyances, and punishing violators of the law by a fine of $2,000 and imprisonment for from one to six months. The bill passed by a strict party vote.

Radical Utterances.

General Chipman, the Radical candidate for Congress from the District of Columbia, stated the two following truths in an electioneering speech of his. The cohesive and animating power of plunder and pap as a Radical plank, were admitted in this sentence:

"The Republicans of this country, Republican principles, and Republican institutions could only survive when they were cemented by that distribution of patronage, those who came forward to the front of battle, and bore the heat and burden of the day."

He paid this compliment to the Democracy:

"He argued that the Democratic party was not one of compromise with its adversaries."

State Rights.

In Selma, the other day, in a public speech, Jeff. Davis said State rights were not dead.

This statement seems to have made lively clatter among the Butler Radicals, and has been the text for many very uncalled-for and utterly senseless political sermons. It has ever been stretched to mean some horrible project to revive slavery.

But what must these horrified nincompoops think when they read the following utterances on the Ku-Klux bill, of Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, a super-ortho-lox Republican?

The 14th amendment did not allow Congress to exercise police power to the destruction of State authority. Congress had no right to substitute Federal for State Courts. There would be an end to State government, resulting in an unwise change in our government system. He apprehended danger in unnecessary and unjustifiable suspension of the writ of habeas corpus.

Forney.

Forney has a very neat and ready trick of rhetoric, it must be confessed. He can put his diabolical things as ornately and gracefully as anybody. His objection to electing Mr. Merrick, the Democratic candidate for Congress from the District of Columbia, was thus classically and poetically couched:

"The idea of electing such a man, who, during our whole war, stood as silent and as pulseless as the marble figure that stands in cold and classic beauty beneath the Capitol portico is absurd. Contemplate it in this light, it has the appearance of audacity to me."

Forney's tribute to the Radical party, in the same speech, is unique:

"It is the party that followed freedom with the logical ballot. It is the party that preceded the logical ballot with the thinking bayonet."

"Thinking bayonet" is good, in fact just about as good and true as "fighting Forney."

Butler's Gasconade.

Butler wound up an eight column fusillade on the Ku-Klux bill the other day in Congress, with the following lively possibility:

But when the trumpet rings out "charge," we shall dash forward as one man to the music of the good old tune of

"John Brown lies mouldering in his grave,
But his soul is marching on."

And the dismayed and discomforted allied army of the Democracy, rebels and Ku-Klux Klans, will again go down before us, as of yore did the hosts of the Saracens before the onslaught of the knights of Richard the Lion Hearted.

The thing is good but incomplete. That part about the Radicals charging under the oriflame of John Brown's old breeches—the insurrectionary old border ruffian—is fine. But if Butler had added the inspiring slogan of "spoons" to his ringing war cry, the artistic perfection of the picture would have been incomparable and exquisitely fit.

As it is, the end of the Radical march is foretold like inspiration—viz, where John Brown's soul is scorching.

Holden.

Ex-Governor Holden, the impeached, is a philosopher of the first water. He thus draws sweet from the bitter sting of conviction for grave public crimes:

"'What is banishment but set free' from the care, control, and rule of 80,000 negroes and 500 hungry carpet-baggers, who put mischief in their heads?"

This is neatly put, aye, truthfully and pointedly put for a scamp. What an admirable summary of Southern Radicalism is this capital paragraph. We give Holden our hat for getting off a good thing, for epitomizing the Radical faith and faction in a brief, comprehensive, unequalled nut-shell.

He further says:

My dear friend don't be afraid of impeachment, President Grant will provide for you in that event, as he has for our friend Col. Bergen.

This too is good. Grant salves the loil scoundrel. What matters impeachment for damnable infamy, when the head of the nation rewards it with high national pap? Crimes for Radicalism are virtuous things. They but extend the scamps' sphere of operations, and enlarge him under the grace of Grant, the emperor, into a national representative of the Radical party, for foreign admiration.

Verily we have tumbled upon extraordinary times. These days of Radical rule are like nothing else. The mixture of penitentiary and semi-barbarism in the thing is sublime. Felony was wont to settle a fellows hash in old days. Now it exalts him to higher realms for roguery. Then, it squelched him; now, it promotes. Formerly it put the brakes on his recognition by even the humblest; it has come to be the commission for distinguished place and fat fleshpots.

Well, the moral is tolerably plain, thank God! It is this. Isn't it about time to have a new deal, change the trumps Democratic and play for the high good old stakes of honesty and good government?

Our Dead

The 26th of April, when our dead are to be remembered, will soon be here. We know that the ladies who have patriotically taken the matter in hand are doing their duty, as always, well. We simply desire to call the attention of our business men to the matter It is improving to turn aside occasionally from the rude strife and imperious exactions of business, to think of our worthy dead, who laid down their lives for our common Southern country. The communion cannot but be beneficial.

It recalls sacrifices for duty, resolute fidelity to conviction, fervent love of country, beautiful chivalry and shining honor, that the tendencies of the age are to obscure and annihilate.

In reading, the other day, the speeches at the reunion of the Federal Army of Tennessee, the following toast was given:

"OUR DEAD—NOT DEAD, BUT GONE BEFORE."

It drew the following exquisite response from a General Wager Swayne, which can be applied to our own brave dead, who may yet teach to all the world the truth, that "liberty and Union" must be united by constitutional Law, and not pinned together by the bayonet, to be indestructibly and beneficially inseparable:

Our dead are the true cost of the war. Silver and gold still multiply, and art and science grow. The nation has new life in all its channels; and "free and equal" lives forever in the page where all the world may read. Only the dead are dead. Sometimes, perchance in trial or distress, a wistful thought has gone in search of them, as those who were permitted in one hour to sum up and discharge all that remained for them of life, and then realized that since antiquity it has been said that it was sweet as well as glorious to die in arms for a country. Still they are dead, hopelessly dead, for the mother and wife, mournfully dead for the wayward boy, bitterly dead to the hour of want and need of a strong hand; dead also to our love; and yet they live as those whose works do follow them.

Innumerable children South of us are learning busily the shape and structure of the world; learning to love their country and live like men. Many a time have I seen them and remembered that our dead men teach those schools! So, too, it has been thought a pretty speech that "liberty and union" were inseparable and were one, and it was whistled down the wind until death followed the denial, and men read the oracle in blood. Let no man doubt it for the evil of to-day. They are only the mill of the God's slow grinding, and these dead men may yet teach that truth to all the world. We count them dead and reckon up our loss. God simply seems to make them of more use.

PERSONAL.—We had a call, yesterday, from that estimable gentleman and excellent lawyer, Judge Augustus Reese, of Madison.

We also had a call from Mr. DuBose, the editor and proprietor of a good, new weekly paper late started, the McDuffie Journal.

Another Atlanta Institution.

During the past month, the plans of the Republic Life Insurance Company, of Chicago, have been laid before our leading business men, and prominent citizens, with a success that culminated in the organization, yesterday, of a local branch as the Atlanta branch of the parent company. The names of the officers and stockholders that appear in another column, are all that is needed to show that the proposition in which the organization is based, has taken deep root in Atlanta. The result is what is, in effect, a home company, under the control of some of our best financial men and capitalists, with careful home investment of the funds accruing from business tributaries to this branch.

The plans of the "Republic" propose a large, strong, safe company, with abundant capital to carry them out; Local Boards of Directors who shall detect bad risks and poor agents, recommended loans and see that they are safely made; low premiums, making the reduction in advance (instead of after two to four years) but simple, plain insurance on business principles, that all can understand. In the West and South the company proposes in general to loan its funds, where it procures its business, and thus make its investments the means of developing their resources as well as of increasing the business of the company—a material advantage which Southern men appreciate. And the large capital of the "Republic" makes assurance doubly sure, the solidity and security guaranteed beyond a contingency in a case where liability is a crime, since it affects what may be the sole resource of the widow and the orphan. Our people are awaking to the importance of home insurance companies. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are annually sent North, in premiums, for insurance policies, from this State. Most of this is an absolute loss to the capital of the State, for none of it is sent back for investment, and no very large portion comes back in payment of losses. This constant drain from us ought to be lessened by the organization of home companies. The establishment of the Atlanta Branch of the above mentioned company, is a step in the right direction, and the character of its officers warrant us in believing the company worthy of the fullest confidence. A tree is known by its fruits, and the "Republic" is willing to be known by both its fruits and its Branches. The character and standing of the capitalists, railroad managers, bankers and principal business men of the Atlanta Board of Officers and stockholders is a fair representation of the composition of the company, thirty-nine branches of which are in active operation, among which may be mentioned New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Baltimore, and Atlanta. That the company is in earnest and "means business" is fully evident by the thorough manner in which its general manager for the State, Mr. Goodnow, has completed the organization here. Mr. Goodnow is a brother of the Secretary of the Ætna Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford, and comes among us highly accredited as a business man of high standing and character. His bearing and department are indicative of his merit. We are glad to learn that he intends removing his family to Atlanta and making it his future home. The organization of the board, in the names and character of its officers, is a happy one. The action of these gentlemen in taking hold of the company is a strong endorsement of the system of Stock Life Insurance—"So much insurance for so much money."

THE KU-KLUX BILL.

A SCATHING REPUBLICAN DISSECTION OF ITS INFAMY AND ILLEGALITY.

The New York Evening Post, although a leading organ of the so-called Republican party, has not entirely overcome its ancient Democratic fealty to law and the Constitution. It thus powerfully assails the Ku-Klux Bill of the House:

This legislation is not only unconstitutional, but it is impolitic, and so vague in its form, that by the traditions of the law, it might be pronounced "void for uncertainty."

It is unconstitutional because it assumes national authority over municipal police matters, which are not delegated by the Constitution to Congress. If two persons "conspire" to commit a crime against persons or property, this bill, by the natural construction of its terms, takes them from the State authorities and brings them before the United States tribunals as police courts. It erects new seats of justice, with a jurisdiction that conflicts at all points with that of the State courts, and sets up two distinct and widely different penal codes for the same classes of offenses, in the same territory.

It is impolitic, because it offers an opportunity for indefinite annoyance and oppression to be exercised under the forms of law toward the very men who ought to be conciliated by the general government, and who must be treated with forbearance and kindness, if peace is ever to be obtained throughout the land. Under this act, any two members of a State legislature who unite in proposing or supporting a bill which can be construed as abridging the "equal privileges or immunities" of any person or class, may be dragged at once before a national court and tried for "a high crime."

It is vague in the highest degree. It confounds all distinctions between the jurisdictions of the national and the State tribunals. Whenever an offense is liable to punishment by two codes, and by two sets of administrators, the common result is that it is punished by neither. An indictment by the one may be plead in bar of an indictment by the other. How far this act would extend the jurisdiction of the national courts depends entirely upon the interpretation the Federal courts may choose to give to it; but it is plain that they must either accept none of the powers it grants, or else must overthrow and supplant the State courts entirely in protection of civil order; their own peculiar and characteristic work under the Constitution. And this is passed just after the Supreme Court, in the case of Bufflington against Day, has decided that the State Courts are absolutely independent of the national government, so that it cannot interfere with them even to the extent of levying upon the salaries of their judges the uniform tax it levies upon the income of every other citizen.

But these are not the worst provisions of the bill. The Constitution expressly authorizes the Executive to use the army to support the laws and authority of the State when the State Executive calls on him for aid, and thus by direct implication forbids him to do so in other cases. But this bill authorizes him to interfere when the rights of citizens are not protected by a State, and wires the State authorities "fail or neglect" to ask his aid. And of the necessity for such interference and of the extent to which his military operations shall be carried it makes him the only and final judge. He may even, at any time, pronounce by proclamation the disorders in any State "a rebellion against the United States," and "when, in his judgment, the public safety shall require it," may suspend the habeas corpus and establish military occupation and martial law anywhere.

In other words, every constitutional restriction upon the power of the Executive is withdrawn, and instead of the constitution and its checks, the nation is left to the voluntary forbearance and sound judgment of the President as the sole safeguard for its liberties. If he should choose at any time to declare the city of New York or of Washington in rebellion, and to take possession of it with the army, under martial law, that is, under the will of himself as commander-in-chief, the people must choose between submission and armed resistance to the enforcement of an act of Congress. That is to say, it gives color of law to such a coup d'etat as made Napoleon III. master of France.

No republic is justified in thus surrendering its liberties. The success of such a measure is more to be dreaded than its utter failure. The restoration of order by such means would be a greater calamity to the country than the promotion of disorder by it. For it would established a precedent under which any political party hereafter, on obtaining the control of Congress and the Executive, might intrench itself and its President in absolute power, and leave the people to ponderly against absolution and centralization but in revolution. It is an attack upon the foundation of civil liberty; an abandonment of that reliance upon law and upon public opinion which is the growth of history and the crown of civilization; a recurrence to the principles and methods of barbarism.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Senate continues the Ku-Klux debate, and meets to-night for a talk only.

The House is discussing the deficiency appropriation bill, and the Senate amendment repealing the law fixing the time for meeting, it concurred in in a vote of 90 to 98. In course of the discussion on that amendment, Davis said he believed this session had been mistaken, and that there would be more to repent than boast of, alluding to the wrangling in the House and to the deeper wounds in the Senate, which would bleed internally if anything induced the people to forgive them, and it would be that moderate measures had prevailed in the last few days. Brock, in advocating economy, said that the next Congress would be Democratic, and their Speaker would then be in the same embarrassing position that the present Speaker was now placed, in regard to the appointment of committees before he had become acquainted with the members. Besides they would have a Democratic President and there would be no danger of his violating the provisions of the Constitution.

The Claims Commission rule, that in every case possible, the testimony in regard to the loyalty of the claimant and the facts of the case shall be given before them orally. In cases where circumstances prevent witnesses from coming to Washington, application must be made for permission to take testimony in some other manner; the names of the witnesses and the material facts to be proved by their testimony, and the respective cases of their inability to be examined in Washington being set forth. Ex parte affidavits will not be received as evidence.

The President to-day nominated a Territorial Council, this council included three colored men, one of which is Fred Douglass.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Arrived, steamer Iowa, towing the Swedish bark Freja, from New York for Cronstadt, laden with naval stores and cotton. She had lost her masts and sprung a leak in the hurricane on April 5th. The crew had been seven days at the pumps.

ALBANY, April 13.—The Republicans in the Legislature have passed caucus resolutions against certain pending bills, declaring them to be party measures, and threatening to denounce any Republicans voting for them, as renegades.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The steamship Avedale, carrying the Southward, East, San Francisco, and the European mails to the 15th of January, has been wrecked near Farallanaki.

The schooner Banishee was wrecked. All on board lost except the captain.

The steamship Rangiloti, with the Suez mails, was foundered at Picouron.

FRANCE.

PARIS, April 13.—Dambrowski reports to the Communal Committee, that his troops are doing excellent service, already holding three-fourths of the town of Neuilly, and hope to possess the bridge across the Seine to-night.

The Cri Du People says the Versailles troops have been driven from Neuilly, and are flying toward Courbevoie.

The Orleans railroad has been cut by the Versailles troops.

Fort Valerien has been firing heavily this morning.

The members of the Commune were personally on the field encouraging the troops.

The British Consul at Paris warns Englishmen to leave the city.

VERSAILLES, April 13.—It is officially announced that the alleged Communist victories are unfounded.

No engagement to-day. All the roads to Paris is occupied by the Versailles troops.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Southern Claims Commission to-day took up the case of the two sons of ex-Adjutant General Thomas, who claims damages for the seizure of a brick kiln at Arlington.

The subscriptions to the national loan today were $2,000,000.

Romere has been newly appointed Secretary, but he will not take possession of the office for the present.

A list of deputies to the Cortes is soon to be voted for.

The Conservative party are making strenuous efforts to organize for efficiency the campaign.

FRANCE.

VERSAILLES, April 13.—The delegates from the party of conciliation have returned to Paris. The conditions of peace proposed to them by President Thiers, were that Paris shall first lay down her arms, and then the municipal franchise will be granted to the city.

Thiers, in a circular bearing the date of the evening of the 12th, describes the situation as mainly unchanged, and says the Government will act at the proper time.

The Commune accounts of victory at Paris are false. Our victory will come bloodlessly.

The Paris delegates had arrived and were received, not because they are Communists but because they are Republicans.

My answer to them was, that no one menaces the Republic but assassins. The lives of the insurgents will be spared, but the workmen, temporarily subsidized in Paris, must return to their labor. Secession will be suppressed.

A dispatch from Morielles says that city is quiet, and the police force is being reorganized.

ENGLAND.

NOTICE.

THE undersigned desires to inform his customers and the public generally, that he continues the business of the late firm of Terhune & Thomas in all its branches, and that he has refitted and rearranged Shall No. 2, on Whitehall street; has a vegetable department connected with it, in the charge of Dr. Register, well known in his line; and that he keeps constantly on hand at his stalls choice Tennessee beef.

He also desires to inform the public that he has not advanced the price of beef on his stalls; nor does he intend to; that choice cuts from prime Tennessee cattle are yet sold at the old figure of 15c, and not 18c, as has been circulated through the city—of which he asks the public to please take notice.

NATURE'S PRESCRIPTION.—When Nature produces a great remedy for disease, the healing science can do is to follow her prescription. By separating the water of the famous Seltzer Springs into its elements, science has discovered the means by which the world-renowned Spa effects such unparalleled cures, and by combining those elements artificially in the grand prescription of Nature is rendered universally and instantly available. As this secret remedy, fevers, disorders of the stomach and bowels, bilious complaints, and all the diseases which affect the digestive, assimilating and secretive organs are especially prevalent, the importance of having this invaluable alterative and corrective at hand in every home, and within reach of all who travel by land or water, cannot be over-estimated.

Stock Plan—The Republic Life Insurance Company, upon the stock plan, low rates, invites the attention of the public, and advertises for Agents.

James Terhune—Offers some special information to his customers, and the public generally.

Near at Hand—This sale of that elegant property, known as the "Windsor Smith."

After an extended Northern tour, Dr.
Sam Bard returned to the city yesterday morning.

Justice Johnson being quite sick yesterday, no court was held at his office.

We notice a few strawberries in the market. Prices rule high.

A possessory warrant case of minor importance, was disposed of by Judge Lyons yesterday.

Messrs. Wallace & Fowler sold the Langston property, on Currier street, yesterday afternoon, for $597.

Mr. John Lord and Mr. William Brown are building and improving extensively on Forsyth and Luckie streets.

We observed a noble ox standing in front of Messrs. Sparks & Tyo's stall yesterday. His weight, we were informed, was 2,305 lbs.

We are informed that there are quite a number of pickpockets in the city. We advise all to keep a sharp lookout for them.

There was a false alarm of fire about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Cause, a lamp explosion at Messrs. Phillips & Crews'.

Three soldiers and a couple of females were arrested at a house of ill-fame in the 2d ward, yesterday afternoon, and lodged in the calaboose.

Phillips, Flanders & Co., are offering the largest and best assortment of ladies', men's, and children's shoes ever brought by them to this market.

The claim case against Chisolm, which occupied two days' of the Superior Court, was about to be disposed of as we dropped into the court room yesterday afternoon.

Abram Brown, a colored man, was up before Judge Smith, on yesterday, under a charge of fornication. Was found guilty, and failing to give bond, was sent to jail.

There were quite a number of wagons from the country in the city yesterday. Still every merchant we conversed with exclaimed, "I am not happy," for business is dull.

There were fourteen cases disposed of by Mayor Hammond on yesterday. They were general in against females for keeping disorderly houses. The fines imposed amounted to $270.

Wesley Scandreth, colored, was up before Judge Spencer, on yesterday, under a charge of larceny from the house. Found guilty, and bound over in the sum of $50.

Mr. Platt Madison, member of the last Legislature, from Lincoln county, (we believe he said he represented that county) who has been lying about the city pretty much since the adjournment of that body, left the city last night for Texas.

We regret to learn that a son of Mr. Tim Murphy about 9 year old fell out of a window on Wednesday night and broke his left arm just in the joint. It is a bad break. We trust the little fellow may soon recover from it.

Quite a lively fight came off near the mineral spring yesterday, between two colored men, Bill Moss and Jack Low. Bill went for Jack in the most scientific manner, blackening both of his eyes, flattening his nose, and, as Beckett says, "put a head on him."

James Terhune.—This gentleman, who continues the business of the late firm of Terhune &
Thomas, has refitted and rearranged his stall, No. 2, on Whitehall street, and has a vegetable department connected with it. Be sure to read his card to the public and his customers.

Messrs. Abbott & Bro.—A very interesting announcement is made by these gentlemen, and one to which our planters will pay particular attention. They propose to furnish planters with provisions, such as corn, bacon, flour, lard, etc., on time.
This is liberal and deserving of special mention. We commend them for it, and so will the people.

Supreme Court.—The case of Pound vs.
the State, murder, from Wilkes county, was up before the Court yesterday. Gen. Toombs, Judge Linton Stephens, and Col. Dougherty for plaintiff in error, and Messrs. Newman and Harrison represented Solicitor General Matthews for the defendant.

We had the pleasure of hearing very able arguments from Judge Stephens, also from Gen. Toombs.

The Atlanta Agricultural and Industrial Association met at No. 2, in the Capitol, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Major Anderson in the Chair.
A constitution for the organization was adopted.
Upon motion, the meeting adjourned to meet at the Kimball House, on Monday next, at 5 o'clock P. M., to perfect the organization. A full attendance of the members is desirable.

Supreme Court of Georgia—Evening Session—April 13, 1871.—The case of Pound vs. The State was resumed and Judge Stephens concluded his argument for the plaintiff.

It was argued for defendant by Z. D. Harrison, Esq. At the conclusion of General Toombs' argument for plaintiff in error, the Court adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

A Timely Rescue.—On Tuesday last, a young and innocent girl was decoyed from her father's house, in the adjacent county, by a vile woman and induced to take up her abode in this city, in the vicinity of the Mineral spring.

The silver-headed and agonized father having obtained sufficient information, from various parties, to determine their location in this city, at once set out to recover if possible his youthful and deluded daughter. Yesterday he arrived, having been engaged at court during the departure of his child and consequently ignorant of her departure, until his return home. Search, and investigation of circumstances, were at once instituted and through the kindness and unflagging interest manifested by Policemen Buffington and Butler, the girl was found and rescued from the degradation so apparent, and delivered into the embrace of the troubled and anxious father.

His gratitude to Messrs. B. and B. was unbounded, and his joy at finding his jewell still unimpaired can only be conceived by a parent.

The lesson will teach the youthful wanderer that heedforth a mother's love and admonition are as priceless as the rarest jewels.

DeGive's.—The marked interest and hearty applause of the large audience last night evinced the popularity of the Lydia Thompson Troupe. Paris, or the Apple of Discord, as rendered last night, must be seen, not described. It is founded on the old story told by Homer; but comicalities and absurdities, floralesseings and rollicking movements, puns, gymnastics, singing and dancing; the combination of incongruities, the reckless mixing up of ancients and modernsmade it anything but Trojan, and yet a very delightful entertainment. Paris, who fed sheep upon the mountain, and afterward ran away with Helen, may have possessed prudence in desiring controversies but we like Miss Lydia Thompson in the impersonation much better. Magnificently dressed, there was a beauty and grace in her delineation, rarely seen in burlesque. Her voice is sweet in song, her dancing possesses artistic grace, and the perfection of her acting is the utter abandon with which she enters into the spirit of her role.

Miss Weatherby's Mercury was a bewitching performance. She is talented, very pretty, finely formed, and graceful in every pose of her body and limbs. Miss Jennie Arnot's Cupid could not have been altered so as to have been improved. The Jupiter of Miss Louisa Arnot, the vivacious little sprite with laughing black eyes, had much heartiness and vitality about it.

Beckett's Chaon took exceedingly well. He is near perfect as a comic artist. All the troupe deserve mention, but preoccupied space prevents it. To-night is the last of the engagement. It is Miss Lydia's benefits, and we doubt not but that DeGive's will be crowded.

"Jim, that man with the ugly nose, is named Beckett. I knew he was a funny man by the way he walks. He don't walk like other men." The above remark was made by one boy at DeGive's, to another. There was more philosophy in the boy's words than, perhaps, he was aware of. Any day, if he will go on the streets, his mind can be amused, and food furnished it, by the crowd he meets, asking himself as to who they all are, where do they come from, what are they thinking of, what characters, and where and how do they live? Each one of them has, as Beckett, his walk, and from it, the gait they travel, their style of getting along, he can discover a transcript of their minds. In all the crowd he meets, he will find that Beckett's is not an exception, but that two persons more exactly alike, and that the mental and moral characteristic of each man, can be seen in his mode of locomotion. The tall, limber-jointed, tolerably dressed man, who is now passing James' Bank, without a flourish or affected movement; he never looks back, rarely on either side of him, yet scrutinizes what he meets, you can see what he is. To get along, to move forward, is evidently his aim and object. Efficiency is the prominent trait of that man. He rarely postpones business; he is not an idler; his intellect is keen; he talks directly to the point in hand; he is a man who exerts a controlling influence; interest him in any enterprise and the work is more than two-thirds accomplished. Do you recognize the picture?

In front of Sharp's jewelry establishment, see that thick-set, short-legged man; he waddles along lifting his feet as if quite heavy, and he places them on the pavement as if he was much fatigued; he rolls a little from side to side, and there is no spring in his walk. Do you know him? He does not keep up with the foremost in wanting public schools, or water-works. We advise that he be not placed on the Street Railroad Board, the enterprise lags now, and instead of pushing it forward he would retard the movement.

See the man coming out of Jack's, the manner in which he drags his heel over the pavement as he walks, tells the whole story. Now, if money is to be raised to build a hospital in Atlanta, do not let him control, or direct in the matter, for you can see that his is a dragging character, and that the hospital in his charge will never be completed.

Watch the men at Dodd's corner; see the sharp eye, the cautious, cat-like walk, and the foot softly touching the granite pavement. This man is from Hamburg Square. Mr. James, one of the city's best and most efficient friends, is breaking up that "boat," and look out for him in some other locality.

And so we might walk Whitehall street and find a true index of each man's character and mind from his walk. Each man, like Beckett, has his walk, and this walk shows a diversity of minds, making the world pleasanter and more desirable to live in.

Perfection.—The nearest approach to perfection, in articles designed for kitchen use, is that of Dooley's Yeast Powder, now generally recognized as the most economical and reliable Baking Powder in the country. No house-keeper should be without it. To accomplish the same results, it requires but one-half or two-thirds the quantity that it is necessary to use of other Baking Powders, while uniform success in making rolls, bread, biscuits, pastry, etc., is guaranteed. Recommended solely on its merits. Dooley & Brother, Manufacturers, 69 New street, New York. For sale by all Grocers. april9—d1w&ewlt

The worst Coughs yield, as if by magic, to the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It also surpasses anything else ever before discovered for the cure of Pimples, Blotches and Rashes on the face; also for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and all Skin and Scrofulous diseases. Sold by all druggists. Send address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, New York, for pamphlet. april9—d1w&ewlt

Dr. Tutt's Celebrated Expectorant—No Mystery How it Acts.—First it detaches from the bronchial or wind tubes the mucus or matter which sometimes adheres to them with the tenacity of glue. Secondly, It mitigates the pain and removes the constriction of the bronchial tubes and muscles of the chest. Thirdly, It resists the progress of inflammation, and assists the lungs to throw off the irritating matters which accumulates. april12—d1w

Plenty for Everybody.—John Peel's is the place to get fresh fish, oysters, Bologna sausage, fruits and confectioneries. One hundred boxes fine oranges, over 20,000, just arrived. Wholesale dealers will find it to their interest to call.

Beauty.—The largest collection of beauty ever published in the United States is afforded in the Parlor Album, advertised in another column. This Album embraces the finest specimens of chromo lithographs, steel engravings and fine wood engravings, ever afforded the public. The American Publishing Company of Rutland, Vemont, desire an active agent in every town and village, to whom they offer liberal terms. Read the advertisement of Parlor Album. march38-deod6m

Exhaustion.—Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations, and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia, and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice. april9—d1w&ewlt

Removed.—I will remove on the 15th of this month from No. 1 Railroad Block, near Railroad Crossing, to No. 34, Whitehall street, where I will keep a fine stock of Ready-Made Clothing, cut and made in the latest style as ever have been exhibited in Atlanta.

My facilities in Gents Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, etc., is not less conspicuous, and cannot be excelled by any other house in Atlanta.

My prices are very moderate, as they always have been.

Thanking my customers for past favors, and soliciting a continuance of their trade, and inviting the public in general to call and see me at No. 34 Whitehall street. Respectfully. B. Decker. apr11—4t

In the testimony of aged persons who have tested the vivifying and soluring properties of Lippman's Great German Bitters is worthy credence, they are decidedly preferable to any of the unmedicated stimulants or combinations of drugs and alcohol ordinarily prescribed to cheer the spirits and strengthen the systems of persons of an advanced age. These Bitters produce no unnatural excitement, and these effects are at once soothing and strengthening, and they counteract, to a great degree, the depressing influence which the decay of the bodily energies has upon the animal spirits; it is, therefore that it is acknowledged universally that Lippman's Bitters are cordial for the aged.

Lippman's Bitters are for sale by all druggists and dealers.

$100,000 a Year—Is a small estimate to put on the value of property saved to this country by the use of Prof. Isaacson's great "Sure Pop" on rats, roaches and bed bugs. It is a great discovery, and we understand the Agricultural Societies of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, have presented Prof. Isaacson with Diplomas in testimony of the efficiency of his great "Sure Pop." It is a discovery which will place his name along side of Fulton, Morse, Franklin and other public benefactors. An investment of 25 cents will well repay any one troubled with rats or mice again; we say try it, try "Sure Pop." april9—deo1lw

Read! Read! Read!!! Health, beauty and happiness restored to modern womanhood, by using Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator or Woman's Best Friend.

Sold by every Druggist in Charlotte, N. C., and by Druggists generally.

We were kindly furnished the following extract from a letter to Dr. F. Scarr, Druggist, of this city:

Stanley County, N. C.

Dr. F. Scarr—Dear Sir: When in your town I asked you for something for my wife. You sold me a bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, or Woman's Best Friend. Please put me up one dozen bottles of the same, as the one I got from you has got my wife finely well. You would not know her now; she has got stout and healthy and as red as a rose. As others are needing it please send me one dozen bottles.

Charlotte, N. C., March 23, 1871.

Dr. J. H. Bradfield—Dear Sir: We cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy and popularity of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Among a number of cases it has benefitted in this community, we mention that of a married lady. She was a sufferer from womb diseases; had excessive and disagreeable flow of whites; was weak and languid. She was induced to try the Regulator, and after taking the second bottle she is sound and well. Her health and elasticity of spirits have returned, and she has gained many pounds in weight; feels altogether like a new being. Yours very respectfully,

GREAT REAL ESTATE SALE!

Capitalists Here and Abroad Take Notice.

THE WINDSOR SMITH PROPERTY,

Between Whitehall and Windsor,

Two of the Principal Streets of Atlanta, leading out into the country, West End, etc.

It lies broadside of the great and magnificent Whitehall Street.

The sale of one-half of this property one year ago attracted one of the largest crowds ever attending a sale in Atlanta, because of the value of the property.

It is the largest tract—about nine (9) acres of choice vacant central residence property, now in the city.

Look at the City Map,

And see its superiority. It is accessible to the heart of business—It lies beautifully and upon one of the best elevations in Atlanta—It is dissected by splendid 50 feet streets—It is unsurpassed by the elegance of the neighborhood, which is that of the Hawkses, Gouins, Johnsons, the Dodds, Holderneses, Judge Erskine and others.

This Property is also celebrated, as the location of Gen. Hood's headquarters during the siege of Atlanta.

In a few years it will command four or five thousand dollars an acre. Get a plat and select an elegant site for a home, overlooking Atlanta. Examine the property.

G. W Adair, Auctioneer.

Forty Residence Lots.

I WILL sell, upon the premises, commencing promptly at 3 o'clock [illegible]oon, on Thursday, 20th day of April,

Forty Splendid Residence Lots,

Of the Windsor Smith Survey, on Whitehall, Hood, Rawson, Ira, Orange and Windsor streets.

These lots are on one of the most desirable sites in or near the city for residences—with pure water, fine view, accessibility, refined neighborhood, and handsome improvements in every direction around it.

This property will certainly attract discriminating buyers. I will have posters and plats ready, showing the entire tract, with all that has been heretofore sold. The titles are perfect. Terms—One-half cash; balance 1st October and 1st January next.

PARLOR ALBUM

IN FIVE QUARTO VOLUMES.

Price, $9 00 per volume, or

$40 00 PER SET COMPLETE.

Description of the Work:

THE PARLOR ALBUM is doubtless the most extensive Art Gallery ever published and , by those who have examined the several portions of the work, it has been pronounced "The Climax of Beauty." Each volume contains 80 full page Chromo Lithographs, in Oil Colors, 40 full page Steel Engravings, 40 full page engravings on wood, and 320 pages of reading matter, descriptive of the illustrations, the whole making each volume about one-half as thick, and same sized pages, of Webster's largest Dictionary. Each volume is complete in itself and will be sold separately, if desired. Sold by Subscription, Only.

Vol. I. Is devoted to Wild American Birds.
Vol. II. Contains Wild American Animals.
Vol. III. American Domesticated Birds and Animals.
Vol. IV. Foreign Birds and Animals.
Vol. V. Fishes, Reptiles and Insects.

This work will at once commend itself to the cultivated American people, and no library will, hereafter, be complete without this addition to its treasures; while as a parlor amusement it is unequaled by American publications.

AGENTS WANTED.

We will give agents very liberal terms for selling the above described publications, and wish to appoint an agent in every town in the United states and British Provinces. Experienced book agents and all other persons of respectability should apply at once. Any Young Man or Young Lady, can, by devoting a short time during the day or evening, secure a complete set, free of expense, or, if preferred, we will allow a large commission in cash.

We have prepared a most beautiful SPECIMEN BOOK FOR AGENTS, containing 8 of the Oil Chromos, 10 Steel Engravings, 10 Wood Engravings and 50 pages of descriptive reading, being selections from each volume, together with blank paper, Specimens of forms, nearly.

Our Specimen Book has cost us quite largely, and we do not wish to send it to persons who do not intend to act as agents, but to any one who will make an effort to procure subscribers to the Work, we will send the Specimen Book, pre-paid, on receipt of forty cents to cover postage. DEMOCRATIC POETRY.

Gems from the New York Leader.]

Hickory, dickory, dock,
Butler's eye at full cock;
The end's begun,
Hickory, dickory, dock.

O, sing a song o' Cæsars,
A belly full of "rye,"
Eight-and-forty blackbirds
Eating humble pie;
Grant in the blue-room counting out his money,
Dent in the kitchen stealing bread and honey,
Morton up stairs packing up the clothes,
Along comes New Hampshire—Lord how she blows!

Wee Willie Greeley,
Runs through the town,
Up stairs and down stairs,
In his night gown;
Tapping in the bar room,
Hear the old man say:
"Fish has cut off summer's head,
And there's the devil to pay."

"O, Colfax may I go out and drink,
Over New Hampshire's slaughter?"
"Yes, hang your clothes on the floor, my boy,
And drink to Woodford in water."

Billy Nye could drink no rye,
And Grant could drink no gin;
Now wasn't this a pretty trick,
To drink a whisky-skin.

There were three crows sat on a stone,
Butler, Sumner, and Grant;
Two flew away, and then there was one,
Ulysses Greely Grant;
The other crow finding himself alone,
Hiram Simpson Grant,
Went to Galena, and there was none
That had anything for Grant.

Hey, diddle diddle,
Poor Grant is a riddle,
The cat has jumped out too soon;
The Democrats laugh'd
To see such a craft,
And Butler ran away with the spoon.

Passage of the Amnesty Bill.

Special Telegraphic Correspondence Courier-Journal.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The House to-day took i s most liberal step on the amnesty question. Some sixty Republicans joined hand with the Democrats in voting for a bill which relieves all but three classes of persons from the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment. A majority of all the New England members and three of the four colored members supported the bill, while Generals Banks, Garfield and Farnsworth, Gov. Blair, of Michigan, and other well-known Republicans gave it their votes for the first time. There is a very good prospect that the Senate will this week pass the bill; if so it is estimated that from 150,000 to 175,000 persons in the South will be restored to citizenship, and leave but 1,500 to 2,000 disfranchised. The three excepted classes are as follows: First, members of the Congress of the United States, who withdrew therefrom and aided the rebellion. Second, officers of the army and navy of the United States, who being above the age of 21 years left said army or navy and aided the rebellion. Third, members of the State conventions which adopted the ordinances of secession, who voted for the adoption of such ordinances.

THE CONDITION EXACTED.

Before any person shall be entitled to the benefit of this act he shall, within the district where he resides, before a clerk of some court of the United States, or a United States Commissioner, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, and to bear true faith and allegiance to the same, which oath or affirmation shall be forwarded by said officer to the Secretary of State of the United States, who shall cause a list of all persons complying with the provisions of this act to be laid before Congress at the opening of each session thereof; and the officer before whom such oath or affirmation is made shall give to the person such forms and regulations as the Secretary of State may prescribe.

Atlanta and the Cartersville and Van Wert Railroad.

The above road will soon be opened to Van Wert. Already is it throwing into Atlanta a large per centage of the products of some thirteen first-class saw mills and several flouring mills on its line. Cotton, also lime, wheat and various fargi products have been going forward—likewise, a handsome trade opened to Atlanta, from the richest section of our State penetrated by this road.

The vast State and marble quarries at Van Wert will presently be reached, and Atlanta again becomes a large beneficiary, "reaping where she has not sown." It is desirable now, and important, that this road be extended rapidly, not only to the State line—there connecting with the Selma, Rome and Dalton road—but beyond that to the St. Clair coal fields in Alabama, a distance of some eighteen or twenty miles.

This done, and Atlanta at once commands the most extensive and richest coal fields in all the South. Thus the coals of North Georgia, East Tennessee and North Alabama are brought to the confluent point in competition and abated cost per ton; and Atlanta thereby, with cheapest fuel and abundant supply, extends her manufacturing capacity.

In another view it is important to Atlanta that the Cartersville and Van Wert Railroad be extended speedily. This road successfully competes with the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabany road, a parallel line, now building to the Western and Atlantic road. Atlanta is not to be benefited by parallel lines, East and West; but secures protection and benefits by timely action in aid of such lateral feeders as shall check-mate the flank movement referred to.

Already is Atlanta dangerously circumvented by construction of the Alabama Northand South Road. Tate, Wallace, Wadley and all railroaders of forecast among us, understand that. Such, however, as are interested for Atlanta will be found a unit in favor of prompt movement on cross lines and lateral feeders, as the policy that holds the silver on. "Forewarned, forearmed." Governor Bullock's Organ—The Philosophy of the Outrage.

In round numbers then, we may say, that during the year 1870, the tax payers of Georgia contributed $50,000 to keep alive an organ of the party whose only mission and work in this State has been the degradation and beggary of the aforesaid tax-payers. They not only have to submit to the presence and publication of such a journal, but actually are forced to pay for its defamation and insults to themselves. If this is not "roughness" we would like to know what it is. No wonder that its editor can afford to gather up in its columns and parade for the delectation of his lavish employers, all the foul garbage contributed to Northern Jacobin organs by strolling vagabonds of the trooly loil persuasion. He and they know that it is garbage of the vilest character, and manufactured for the basest purposes; but secure in the possession of a free pass to the people's strong box, he and they can afford to laugh at decency and mock at truth.

It is a most healthy reflection that the day of these orgies of plunder-stimulated libel and abuse is hastening to a close. The ides of November will see this stream of slander dammed up in a sharp, short and decided way. It will run, we suppose, a few months longer after that event, but its current will have to gather force and volume elsewhere than from the Treasury of Georgia.—Macon Telegraph and Messenger.

The Real Ku-Kluxes.

The New York Sun, of Saturday, says:

The real Ku-Kluxes who ought to be put down by national legislation are not the ruffians, real or imaginary, whose exploits are made so much of, but the living, flesh and blood scoundrels in official station, who are doing their best to impoverish and destroy the whole fabric of society in the South.

Since the close of the war every Southern State has been cursed with a swarm of adventurers from the North, who, having failed to gain a living at home by either honest or dishonest labor, and having no reputation except a bad one to leave behind them, have sought this new and untried field where to retrieve their fortunes. Some had been hangers-on in the wake of our armies, but more prudently waited till all the fighting was over, and then descended on their prey. Taking advantage of the disfranchisement of the native-born citizens, or availing themselves of Federal patronage, they have foisted themselves into places of power and profit, which they have fearfully abused, to their own advantage and the ruin of their helpless victims.

☞ A little girl in London, who sold watercresses, had a Bible given her by a city missionary. She read it for some weeks, and told the minister that she liked the Old Testament better than the New, as there was "a deal more fun an' fighting in it."

I beg leave to call the attention of the reader to testimonials in favor of the Schnapps:

I feel bound to say that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of world-wide patronage. At all events it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians. DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 1.—I feel that we have now an article of gin suitable for stish cases as that remedy is adapted to. DR. J. W. BRIGHT.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, viz:

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus, with much respect, your obedient servant,
CARL A. LEAS, M. D., New York.

25 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov. 21, 1867—Udolpho Wolfe, Esq.: Dear Sir—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps," with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the "schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours, (Signed) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

CHEMICAL AND TECHNICAL LABORATORY, 18 EXCHANGE PLACE, New York, Nov. 25, 1867.—Udolpho Wolfe, Esq.: Dear Sir—The undersigned have carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of your "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," selected by ourselves, and have found the same free from all organic or inorganic substances, more or less injurious to health. From the result of our examination, we consider the article one of superior quality, healthful as a beverage, and effectual in its medicinal qualities.
Respectfully yours,
(Signed) ALEX TRIPPEL, Chemist.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER!
SCHEETZ'S CELEBRATED
BITTER CORDIAL!
WHOLESALE DEPOT,
Northwest Cor. Fifth and Race Streets, Philadelphia
JACOB SCHEETZ Sole Prop'r
IT is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt, and speedy remedy for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bowel Complaints, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Flushing, Sick Stomach, Headache, etc. For Chills and fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. As an indisputable evidence of its unrivaled proprieties, we append a few of the many certificates in our possession.

CUMBERLAND IRON WORKS, TENN., October 18th, 1869.
Jacob Scheetz, M. D.—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been having the chills for the last three months. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard Scheetz's Bitters highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, I continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well. I feel only consider the Bitters a sovereign remedy for chills, but I believe, it is preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.
Yours very truly, MOLLIE HART.
